Toll Group Bushfire Appeal raising funds for Bushfire victims

The bushfires in regional Victoria this week have been horrific in scale and impact.

“More than thirty Toll employees have been directly affected with some losing their homes, receiving injuries such as burns and many employees of course have friends who have died or are missing. Toll has put in place a range of measures to assist those impacted,” Toll Managing Director Paul Little said.

“Toll has established a special fund for the victims of the bushfires. Importantly, Toll will match all donations dollar for dollar up to $500,000. Over $35,000 has already been donated. The support from Toll staff and contractors has been overwhelming.

“With around 30,000 employees world wide, it’s no surprise that many Toll staff and their families have been impacted and I know the thoughts of all of us are with them.

“We have all been touched by the horror and, as Australia’s largest logistics company, we are continuing to provide whatever assistance we can to the authorities on the scene,” Mr Little concluded.
